SERIES NO. 5.—TAILORING FOR C

No man goes to a tailor and leaves his order with the avowed intention of not paying for the clothes, yet statistics show that 20 per cent of a credit tailoring business is a loss. Instead of adding one-fitth more to my prices I prefer to sell for one-fitth less than other first-class tailors and do a strictly cash business. No reasonable man can object to paying for his clothes when they are finished and fit satisfactorily, and that is all I ask. It is only in selling for cash that I can sell as low as I do, and the difference between my prices and other first-class tailors for equal work is well worth saving. See the syring patterns.

THAT BRICK CRUISER.

What Capt. Meade Says of the Criticisms His Proposed Exhibit.

A reporter of THE STAR today met Capt. Richard W. Meade, the representative of the Navy Department for the world's exposition, and asked what he thought of the recently published protest by Chicago ex-naval officers other places, and proposes to import real pagans to live in them. I fancy Chicago has no permanent use for the structures or the pagans. The Colorado miners propose to dig a hole in the prairie and line it with precious ores and metals and call it a mine. The fish commission hopes to have an aquarium and to fill it with salt water and marine animals—poor things—but it won't be an ocean. The War Department will probably build casemates and erect hospitals, yet it is to be hoped not for actual, permanent use in Jackson Park. The life-saving service will put up and fully equip a station, but the exposition will close before the storm period, and I fear the navy will be called on to furnish men to be saved every time a drill of act that all payments under that act will be made to the states in trust for citizens thereof from whom they were collected and their legal repthe District of Columbia to apply for the mechanical draftsman examinations to be held March 17, the ordnance examination to be held March 24 and all examinations for the super-

March 17, the ordnance examination to be held March 24 and all examinations for the supervising architect's office; but they will be admitted only with the understanding that if there are enough successful competitors from outside the District those from the District will not be certified for appointment.

Such things are the most taking features of a great exposition. Half our naval display would be ridiculously out of place anywhere clese than in a ship. The western people will pay their full share of the cost of our new DRAFTING EXAMINATIONS.—The civil service commission has decided to allow residents of the District of Columbia to apply for the mechanical draftsman examination to be held March 17, the ordnance examination to be held March 24 and all examinations for the super-

March 17, the ordnance examination to be held March 24 and all examinations for the supervising architect's office; but they will be admitted only with the understanding that if there are enough successful competitors from outside the District those from the District will not be certified for appointment.

SAVAL ORDERS.—Chaplain Walter G. Isaacs

Surroundings.

"The amount of information displayed by these 'late' naval officers probably explains why they are so. At least none of the present officers of the navy are ignorant of the fact that money appropriated for an exposition cannot be used to build war vessels, or of the other fact that Congress would not entrust the construction to a board constituted like ours. The amount allotted to the department would be in-sufficient to lay the keel to a steel cruiser even ordered to the receiving ship Dale on the 24th nstant. Passed Assistant Surgeon Isaac W. Nite detached from the Naval Hospital, New York, on the 18th instant and ordered to the Lancaster on the 19th instant. Chaplain Alexander C. Hensley detached from the receiving ship Dale on the 24th instant and ordered to the Lancaster on the 26th instant. The orders of Assistant Surgeon J. H. North, jr., to the Lancaster is revoked and he is placed on waiting orders.

It is possible that a warrant will be issued against Senator Harris for keeping an alleged dangerous dog. The animal in question, it appears, attacked and badly bit the seven-yearold son of Mr. Morgan Harris yesterday. The New Banks.—The controller of the currency has authorized the Citizens' National Bank of Roanoke, Va., to begin business with a capital of $100,000 and the First National Bank of Waterville, Wash., with a capital of $50,000. The following applications for authority to organize national banking associations have been filed with the controller: The National Bank of Avondale. Pa., by John J. Gheen, West Ches-

Roancke, Va., to begin business with a capital of $100,000 and the First National Bank of Waterville, Wash., with a capital of $50,000. The following applications for authority to organize national banking associations have been filed with the controller: The National Bank of Avondale, Pa., by John J. Gheen, West Chester, Pa., and his associates. The Lloyd's National Bank of Jamestown, N. D., by William M. Lloyd, Jamestown, N. D. and his associates. Lloyd, Jamestown, N. D. and his associates.

A Fine Distinction.—The Treasury Department has affirmed the decision of the collector of customs at Philadelphia assessing duty at the rate of 45 per cent ad valorem as unenumerated manufactures of metal on certain socialed chopping knives which the importer claimed to be dutiable at the rate of 35 per cent ad valorem under the provision for cutlery. This action is based on information that the articles in question are in design and use more closely allied to cleavers than to knives, and that their adaptation to use as choppers in contradistinction contributes the principal feature of their construction.

Rumored Impending Ceanors,—Several important changes in the treasury personnel are pending, and the official ax, it is said, is trembling on the fall. There is a state of uncertainty at the department that would be difficult for one to imagine who is not in the place of an office holder under a recent change of administration. It is said that among the contemplated alterations in the force is in the office of the chief clerk, whose claims to the position were largely based on his geographical proximative to the late Secretary Windom. Inspector Pearson when placed upon the stand stated that he went around to the station ouse on the evening of the 20th with Sergt. Daley, who came around to his house and requested him to go around to see the condition of Lieut. Boteler. He says he found the lieu-tenant in his office smoking a cigar, and that from his appearance he had been drinking intoxicat-ing liquor. He said he talked a little thick and did not seem to be in his natural condi-tion, but that he transacted all his business he had with him intelligently and answered all questions. On cross-evamination the inspector staggered against the door and the door went back, and the reaction of strik-ing the door threw him forward. The lieutenant caught at his desk and steadied nimself. On cross-examination he said he was not near enough to smell any liquor upon his breath, but that from his appearance he judged he was under the influence of liquor. In answer to a question whether or not it was possible for the cool weather to have flushed his cheeks Sergeant Daley said no it was his opinion it was caused by liquor. opinion it was caused by liquor. JUDGED HE WAS INTOXICATED.

Stationkeeper Frank testified that he was in the station on the afternoon in question and heard some one come through the station from the rear and later recognized Lieut. Boteler, who staggered up against the door. He called the attention of the sergeant and nightkeeper to the fact and remarked at the same time that to the fact and remarked at the same time that it was a bad thing for the lieutenant to come into the station house in that condition, as he ought to show an example to his officers. On cross-examination he said that he judged that he was intoxicated from his appearance and the manner in which he entered the room.

Station Keeper Hutton testified that he did not see the lieutenant when he came in, but heard the noise and looked up. The lieutenant was walking very fast from the back way and stumbled near the door and struck the door. He says he went into his room and staved there. The President's Western Trip.—There is nothing definitely settled about the trip of the President to the Pre which can be displayed in their native habitat, so to speak, there will be no exposition worth seeing. Why, President Palmer wants fac similes of streets in Cairo, Bagdad, Tokio and other places, and proposes to import real pathern places. The prosecution closed and that no one told him that the lie the influence of liquor. The prosecution closed with this witness.

THE LIEUTENANT'S STATEMENT. Lieut. Boteler was then called to the stand. He stated in substance that on the afternoon in question he left the station with Private Nicholson on horseback to visit the county on business connected with the department. It was the first time he had been in the saddle for six months. After describing the route he took and reasons for going that way, he said that when he arrived at Dr. Hammond's hospital on 14th street he took out his watch and remarked to the officer that they watch and remarked to the officer that they could not possibly get to the station by 6 o'clock unless they went in a lope, and he did not see any necessity for doing that. He said that just before he got to the station he saw the relief coming out. He stopped in the alleyway and went into the stable and put his horse away and then went into the station to his room, and while on his way he stumbled over a large mat and fell against his door and rebounded against the deek and caught himself. Then, he says, he took a seat and smoked a cigar until Inspector Pearson came around and then had a conversation with him about an officer whem the officer wanted detailed. He then goes the officer wanted detailed. He then goes minutely into his actions while in the station minutely into his actions while in the station and then states that he went home. As for drinking, he says he never saw anything to drink and never even smelt it and never touched a drop of whisky that day or forty-eight hours previous to that day. On cross-examination he denied most positively that he had stopped at any place to get liquor.

Private Geo. N. Nicholson testified in the lieutenant's behalf and corroborated him in toto, stating upon cross-examination that he did not take a drink while they were out and that he was perfectly sober when he came in. Mr. Frederick W. Heine, at whose place Lieut. Boteler stopped for a moment, testified that on the day in question the lieutenart stopped at his place for about ten minutes, but he did not notice that there was anything wrong with him.

Private Augustus Thompson also testified and corroborated witnesses who had preceded him.

Private Fifield in his examination stated that he did not observe that there was anything wrong about Lieut. Boteler and did not see wrong about Lieut. Boteler and did not see any movement on his part that indicated that he was under the influence of liquor.

Mary Fisher also testified and stated that the lieutenant called at her house to see about getting a pardon on the evening of the occurrence, but that she did not notice anything wrong with him and did not believe he was under the influence of liquor.

Private W. H. West testified that he saw the lieutenant on the evening in question and did not observe anything in his conduct to indicate that he was under the influence of liquor.

Private R. C. Uppermann also testified that he did not notice anything unusual about the lieutenant and had no idea that he was under the influence of liquor. Sergeant J. T. Robey and Private Fritz Passau also testified that they saw the lieutenant on the afternoon in question and did not see anything unusual in his condition and did not believe that he was under the influence of liquor. This closed the defense.

GEN. PALMER CHOSEN

TWO CENTS.

The Illinois Legislature Sends Him to the U.S. Senate.

AN END OF THE ALBANY DEADLOCK

Looking Forward to the Next Canadian Parliament.

THE JAMAICA, L. I., OUTRAGE,

GEN. PALMER CHOSEN.

He Will Succeed Mr. Farwell as Senate From Illinois. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., March 11 .- Gen. John M. Palmer was elected to the United States Senate on the first ballot of the Illinois legislature in joint assembly today. An exciting scene followed. It appeared to be a foregone conclusion this morning flat Gen. Palmer would be elected today be that the transacted all his business he had with him intelligently and answered all questions. On cross-examination the inspector says he remained there about ten minutes, but could not upon a casual observation, as the lieutenant sat in the chair, notice that he was under the influence of liquor.

Sergeant Daly testified that on the day mentioned, at 6:10 o'clock, Lieut. Boteler came in from the rear portion of the station house and when he first noticed him he was talking with the stationkeeper, and then his attention was directed to him as he staggered past the sergeant's room until he came to the lieutenant's room, when Stationkeeper Frank called his attention to him. Just then the lieutenant staggered against the door and the door went back, and the reaction of striknorning that Gen. Palmer would be elected

The roll was called at 12:15. The republicans efused to answer to their names. Cockrell and Moore both responded. The roll showed 101 democrats and 2 alliance men to be present. The 154th ballot was then taken. It resulted: Palmer, 103; Lindley, 100; Streeter, 1. The republicans had decided to support Lindley. It publicans had decided to support Lindley. It was an exciting occasion.

When Taubeneck voted for Streeter he dropped back in his chair and cried freely. One of the republican members was quite intoxicated and was raising a disturbance.

The verification of the roll call showed every republican voting for Lindley, every democrat for Palmer. Moore and Cockrell for Palmer and Taubeneck for Streeter. PALMER DECLARED ELECTED.

"On the 154th ballot," said Speaker Crafts, the whole number of votes cast is 204; necessary to a choice, 103, of which John M. Palmer has received 103 votes [democratic applause];
A. J. Streeter, 1 vote, and C. J. Lindley
100 votes, and I hereby declare
John M. Palmer duly elected United States Senator to represent the state of Illinois in the Congress of the United States for the term of six years." Deafening applause from the demo-cratic side and galleries greeted this announce-making his first canvass for Congress.

Young, eloquent and in political accord with Mr. Palmer, he won his confidence, fired his ambition and fixed his purpose to enter upon the study of the law, and he was admitted to practice in 1839. From that time on he was much interested in politics.
In 1843 he became probate judge. In 1847 he was elected to the state constitutional convention, where he took a leading stitutional convention, where he took a leading part. In 1852 he was elected to the state senate. He ran for Congress in 1859, but was de-feated. In 1860 he was republican presidential elector for the state at large. In 1861 he was appointed one of the five delegates (all repub-licans) sent by Illinois to the peace congress

When the civil conflict broke out he offered his services to his country and was elected colonel of the fourteenth Illinois volunteer infantry and participated in the engagements at Island No. 10, Farmington, Chickamauga and Stone River, and for his gallantry at the latter place was made major general. Under Gen. Sherman he was assigned to the fourteenth army corps and participated in the Atlanta campaign. In February, 1865, he was assigned to the military administration of Kentucky.

Gen. Palmer was nominated for governor of Illinois by the republicans in 1868 and elected by a large majority. His political course during his term was such as to alienate him from his party, and his acceptance as a course during his term was such as to alienate him from his party, and his acceptance as a democrat, which he has ever since been, but though a force in politics since then he has remained in private life. He received the indorsement of the democratic state convention held in June last for the office of United States Senator, and the instructions which every democratic senator. the instructions which every democratic sen-ator and representative elected in November last received were considered as obligating him to vote for no one else for United States Sen-

THE ALBANY DEADLOCK.

ALBANY, N.Y., March 11 .- The deadlock in the senate was ended at 5 o'clock this morning providing that the lieutenant governor shall have the right when in this city to designate any member to perform the duties of the chair for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours, and that the senate may revoke such designaand that the senate may revoke such designa-tion at any time.

The new rule is a compromise. The demo-crats have contended that the lieutenant gov-ernor should retain the present power to desig-nate a senator to preside for two days, whether in or out of the city. Republicans have con-tended that the lieutenant governor should only have power to designate a substitute when he is in the city and in the absence of the president pro tem.

The new rule gives the lieutenant governor the power to designate for one day when in the city, regardless of the presence or absence of the president pro tem. The inherent parliamentary right of a body to choose its own speaker is explicitly recognized in a clause of the new rule, enabling the senate by vote to revoke the temporary designations of the lieutenant governor. The senate then adjourned till 2 o'clock.

THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT. It Will Meet on the 29th Proximo-Liberal

OTTAWA, ONT., March 11 .- Sir Richard Cartwright expects when the house meets to have a najority of 12 to 14 on a division from Ontario and Quebec. He admits that the government has obtained a majority from the cast and west. but says it will be a difficult one to manage and the victory will be a costly one. The great factor in the campaign on the government side was money, but even money would not have saved them had the Mckinley hill been given saved them had the McKinley bill been given an opportunity to have its due effect. The result of the election has not changed his views regarding unrestricted reciprocity. The policy of the opposition will continue to be to fight all along the line as they have never fought before. The coming session is full of promise. The debating ability on the opposition side will be very high. It is definitely announced that parliament will meet for the despatch of business on April 29. It is expected that the session will be a short one. An effort will be made to push the business through in six or, at most, seven weeks.
